WHEREAS, there has been a startling rise in hate crimes across the United States,<sup>1</sup> we have suffered more than one mass shooting incident per day in 2019,<sup>2</sup> one hundred citizens die from gun violence every single day,<sup>3</sup> and groups of Americans are randomly chosen for mass murder; and

WHEREAS, a fear is growing among us all that the next incident could happen in our own community. With this growing fear there is a growing distrust of our neighbors and even our friends that creates a tense and unpleasant environment; and
